WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

An approaching upper level trough will bring cooler conditions this weekend with light rain chances today and Monday. This will also bring a chance of thunderstorms over inland areas Monday afternoon. Warmer and drier conditions will return next week as high pressure builds back in over northwest California.

San Francisco Weather:

A gradual cooling of daytime temperatures will continue across the region through Tuesday as an upper level system approaches. This system will bring a slight chance of thunderstorms to the North Bay on Tuesday yet most locations will remain dry. An upper level ridge will then rebuild along the west coast midweek and will result in a warming trend through next weekend.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

An upper level low pressure system off the Pacific Northwest coast will bring variable cloudiness and cooler temperatures today. A few light showers may be possible over Shasta County Mountains. This low is forecast to drop southeastward through Northern California on Monday and Tuesday bringing showers and thunderstorms to portions of the north state. A few lingering Sierra showers Wednesday will be followed by warming temperatures and fair skies through the end of the week.

Hanford Weather:

Continued cooling is expected for the next few days as a low pressure system moves through the region. Gusty winds will develop through and below mountain passes and canyons in Kern County today and tonight. There will be a chance of afternoon and evening showers and possibly a thunderstorm in the High Sierra Tuesday through Thursday.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A cooling trend and some gusty northerly winds are expected into early next week as a trough of low pressure approaches the area. There will also be an increase in night through morning low clouds and fog west of the mountains that will continue for most of next week. Below normal temperatures are expected Monday through Wednesday followed by warmer temperatures later in the week.

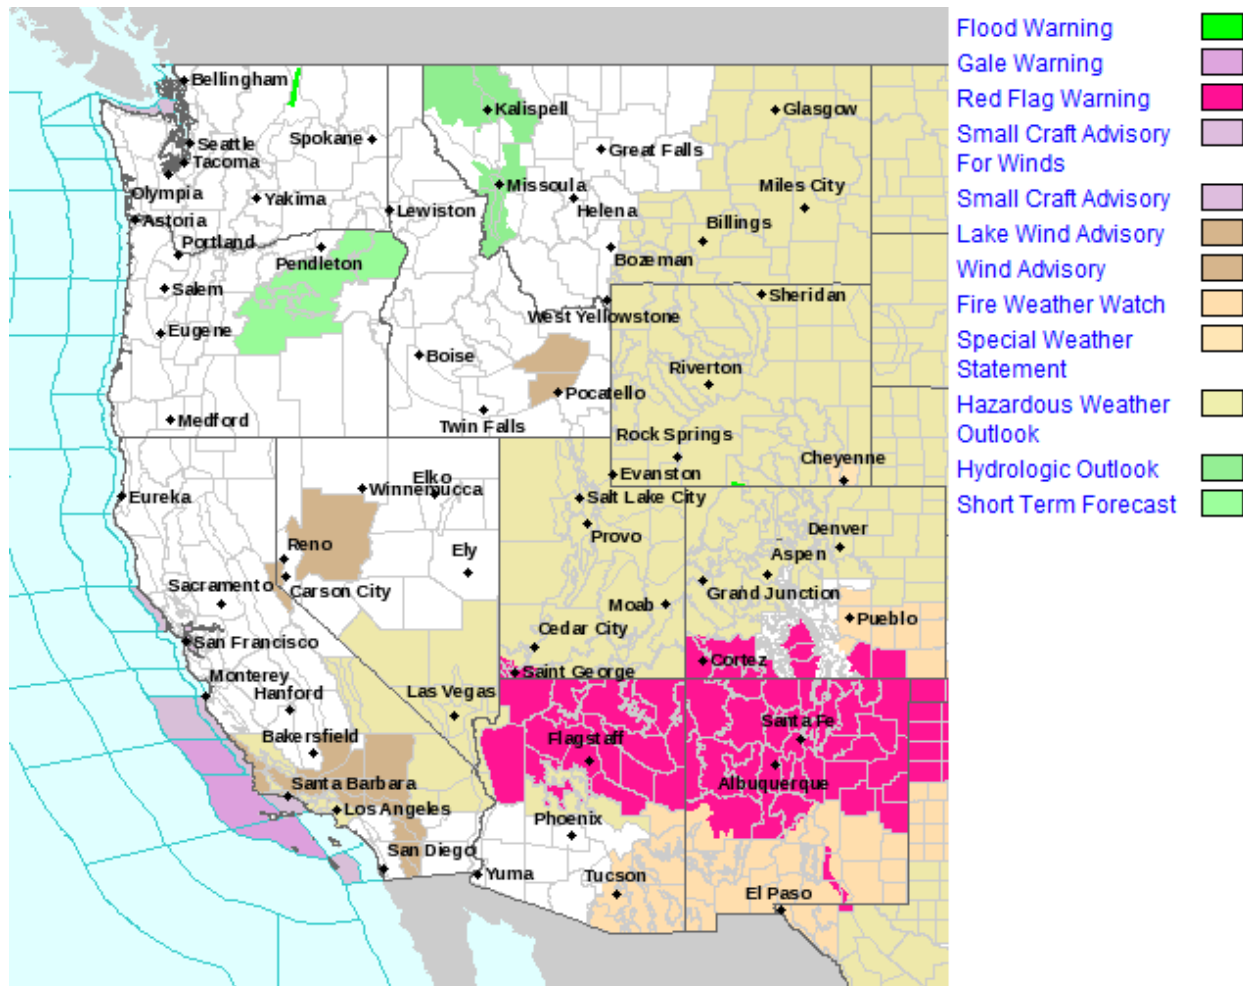

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

A closed low pressure system centered off the Pacific Northwest coast will move slowly southward along the west coast moving into California Tuesday. This will bring stronger onshore flow with a cooling trend, a deepening of the marine layer with night and morning coastal low clouds and fog pushing into portions of the inland valleys this morning and onto the coastal slopes by Tuesday, and gusty west winds in the mountains and deserts each late afternoon through late night. The low pressure system will then move only slowly toward the southeast into next week with slow warming and small chances for showers.

Southeast California Weather:

A high pressure system over the region will weaken slightly today as a new Pacific low pressure system moves into the Western States. Desert temperatures will climb above 100 degrees today with a slow cooling trend Monday through the remainder of the week. As a dry cold front approaches, gusty afternoon winds are expected area-wide today through Tuesday. Partly cloudy skies, lighter wind, and cooler temperatures will develop next Wednesday through Saturday.

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue without substantial rainfall, severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

*As our state's rainy season comes to an end, it is highly unlikely that precipitation totals will increase significantly. This winter's below average rain and snowfall worsens conditions in this third straight dry year.

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

- The Taskforce continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- The most recent snowpack survey, conducted on April 1, recorded California snowpack at 32% of normal. A more recent update using automated devices shows snowpack at 19% of normal as of April 20.
- DWR has announced that water essential for health and safety will be delivered through the state water project in spite of the zero allocation policy. Deliveries will be boosted if storms produce enough rain and snow to increase reservoir storage and the snow pack.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.

UPCOMING EVENTS, TRAINING, EXERCISES

Diablo Canyon Power Plant Full Scale Exercise

Diablo Canyon Power Plant in San Luis Obispo will be hosting a full scale Hostile Action Based FEMA evaluated exercise on May 21, 2014. This is part of the required biennial demonstration of our ability to protect the public from a radiological incident at the nuclear power plant.

Mission:

We protect lives and property, build capabilities, and support our communities for a resilient California.

We achieve our mission by serving the public through effective collaboration in preparing for, protecting against, responding to, recovering from, and mitigating the impacts of all hazards and threats.
